

You did it! You found an insurance agency that will work for you. As an independent agency, Wolf Agency checks the insurance markets for you, so you don't have to. We are not limited to placing insurance with one company. Whether it's for personal

business or life insurance

, we represent many A-rated companies and we'll find the one best suited for your needs.

Since Frank Wolf started the Agency in 1925, Wolf Agency has grown into a strong, independent agency with one major objective: developing long-term relationships with our clients. We know this requires a combination of superior customer service and access to a wide variety of markets to fulfill our clients' needs. Our service personnel pride themselves on their insurance knowledge, which they earn through constant training – and it shows.

There is nothing simple about insurance. Our knowledge and expertise is far more valuable and effective than what you'll ever get from an eight-minute, toll-free telephone call quote. And you'll be communicating with knowledgeable, experienced personnel, not a call center!

We know you hear this everywhere. But do other insurance agents return calls promptly? Do you always speak with the same specialist? Do they spend the time to fully answer your questions? Do they compare premiums when they think they can save you money - or only when you call and complain?

All of these factors are an integral part of our job, and they have been for nearly nine decades across three generations.

Please take a few minutes and click through our Web site. You'll find everything from tips on claims, to articles about important coverages you'd like to understand.

Again, welcome – we hope you stay a while!
